Market Update

Treasury Yields Continue to Rise

- The third quarter marked the tenth straight quarterly rise in the 2-year yield as the U.S. economy remained strong and the Federal Reserve continued tightening monetary policy, raising the federal funds target rate by 25 basis points (0.25%) for the third time this year at its September meeting.
- The 2-year Treasury increased by 29 basis points to 2.82% in the third quarter.

Source: Bloomberg, as of 9/30/2018.

U.S. Treasury Curve

- U.S. Treasury yields rose 20-30 basis points (0.20%-0.30%) over the quarter as the yield curve flattened further. Short-term rates reflected Fed rate hike expectations, while longer-term yields were the result of moderate inflation expectations and persistently low global interest rates.

Economic Summary

◆ Economic conditions were characterized by:

- Stronger growth in the U.S., propelled by tax cuts and fiscal stimulus.
- A robust labor market, with the U.S. unemployment rate near a 48 year low.
- Core inflation near the Fed's 2% target, while oil prices have surged and wages have begun to trend higher.
- Consumer confidence at a near two-decade high, while measures of manufacturing activity are also very strong.
- The Federal Reserve increasing short-term rates ¼ percent per quarter, and signaling the expectation they will continue to do so through 2019.
- An escalating trade war with China, weakness in emerging market economies and currencies, and political uncertainty.

Investment Strategy & Portfolio Review

Portfolio Recap

- We positioned the portfolio with a defensive duration posture for the majority of the past two quarters in light of the Fed's impact on short-term rates. This has benefited the portfolio's returns as yields across the curve approached new highs for this cycle.
- Strong economic fundamentals gave investors confidence in corporate and other non-government sectors. Most investment-grade sectors contributed positive excess returns (returns in excess of similar-duration Treasuries) to fixed-income portfolios for the quarter.
- Our strategy continued to favor broad diversification generally including the widest range of permitted investments.
 - As has been the case for some time, federal agency yield spreads remained extremely narrow throughout the quarter. We generally underweighted agencies in favor of U.S. Treasuries or other sectors.
 - We purchased a supranational security at an attractive yield spread, despite a sharp decline in issuance causing yield spreads to generally narrow. Spread tightening resulted in strong performance for the sector.
 - In the corporate sector, strong economic tailwinds created a favorable investment landscape. Strong investor demand amid pro-credit conditions caused yield spreads to narrow and re-approach post-recession tights. Throughout the quarter, we were a bit more cautious, generally maintaining corporate allocations. Corporate returns dominated their government counterparts, adding significant value to the portfolio in the third quarter.
 - We increased the allocation to asset-backed securities (ABS). Our view of the ABS sector was that it remained a high-quality diversifier to corporate allocations, providing incremental income, with a high degree of downside protection given the sector's strong structural protections and AAA ratings. During the third quarter, the sector provided attractive excess returns.
 - We continued to find value in short-term credit instruments, including commercial paper and negotiable bank certificates of deposit.
 - Our view of mortgage-backed securities (MBS) remained cautious. As such, the portfolio's allocation to MBS is generally small and focused on structures with limited extension risk and those that carry less downside risk in a rising rate environment.

Investment Outlook and Strategy

- We believe the current strength of the U.S. economy, coupled with a strong labor market and rising inflation, will cause the Fed to continue raising rates at a pace of about one ¼ percent hike per quarter well into 2019. Therefore, we plan to maintain a defensive duration posture to mitigate a portion of interest rate risk relative to the benchmark. While diversification away from U.S. Treasury securities has added significant value over the last several quarters, very narrow spreads across most investment-grade sectors give us reason to turn a bit more cautious.
- Our outlook for each of the major investment-grade fixed-income sectors are as follows:
 - Federal agency securities remain expensive, as most maturities offer less than five basis points of incremental yield relative to U.S. Treasuries. We will continue to reduce agency exposure where spreads are tight, seeking better relative value in other sectors. As an alternative, we may selectively add callable agency issues because we view them as providing better value in today's market in addition to favorable diversification and income benefits.
 - Issuance in the supranational sector is very light, and spreads have narrowed sharply. We will likely wait until the first quarter of next year, when seasonal issuance typically surges (as these multinational corporations begin preparing for new fiscal year funding initiatives), to increase allocations at what we expect will be much wider spreads.
 - Corporate sector earnings remain solid, fundamentals are stable, and the domestic backdrop is strong, all of which support credit spreads. However, increased balance sheet leverage, headwinds from tariffs, and higher short-term yields may be headwinds for future performance. In conjunction with tight spreads, we plan to be more selective and defensive with corporate positioning. Our preference continues to favor financials and select industrial issuers.
 - In conjunction with our slightly defensive credit posture, asset-backed securities (ABS) offer attractive incremental income compared to government security alternatives. Further, where allocations to the corporate sector are trimmed, we may seek to reinvest a portion of those assets in AAA-rated ABS.
 - As the Fed continues to reduce its holdings of mortgage-backed securities (MBS), the sector is exposed to potential spread pressures through the fourth quarter. As a result, we will maintain allocations to the sector, with new additions focused only on specific structures that limit interest rate sensitivity and provide more stable cash flows.
 - Short-term money market investors continue to reap the rewards of current monetary policy tightening. In addition, increased projections for U.S. Treasury debt issuance over the next several quarters may continue to pressure short-term yields higher in both the government and short-term credit spaces.

Sector Allocation and Compliance

- The portfolio is in compliance with the City's Investment Policy and the California Government Code.

GLOSSARY

- ACCRUED INTEREST: Interest that is due on a bond or other fixed income security since the last interest payment was made.
- AGENCIES: Federal agency securities and/or Government-sponsored enterprises.
- AMORTIZED COST: The original cost of the principal of the security is adjusted for the amount of the periodic reduction of any discount or premium from the purchase date until the date of the report. Discount or premium with respect to short-term securities (those with less than one year to maturity at time of issuance) is amortized on a straight line basis. Such discount or premium with respect to longer-term securities is amortized using the constant yield basis.
- BANKERS' ACCEPTANCE: A draft or bill of exchange accepted by a bank or trust company. The accepting institution guarantees payment of the bill as well as the insurer.
- COMMERCIAL PAPER: An unsecured obligation issued by a corporation or bank to finance its short-term credit needs, such as accounts receivable and inventory.
- CONTRIBUTION TO DURATION: Represents each sector or maturity range's relative contribution to the overall duration of the portfolio measured as a percentage weighting. Since duration is a key measure of interest rate sensitivity, the contribution to duration measures the relative amount or contribution of that sector or maturity range to the total rate sensitivity of the portfolio.
- DURATION TO WORST: A measure of the sensitivity of a security's price to a change in interest rates, stated in years, computed from cash flows to the maturity date or to the put date, whichever results in the highest yield to the investor.
- EFFECTIVE DURATION: A measure of the sensitivity of a security's price to a change in interest rates, stated in years.
- EFFECTIVE YIELD: The total yield an investor receives in relation to the nominal yield or coupon of a bond. Effective yield takes into account the power of compounding on investment returns, while nominal yield does not.
- FDIC: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. A federal agency that insures bank deposits to a specified amount.
- INTEREST RATE: Interest per year divided by principal amount and expressed as a percentage.
- MARKET VALUE: The value that would be received or paid for an investment in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.
- MATURITY: The date upon which the principal or stated value of an investment becomes due and payable.
- NEGOTIABLE CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT: A CD with a very large denomination, usually $1 million or more, that can be traded in secondary markets.
- PAR VALUE: The nominal dollar face amount of a security.

GLOSSARY

- REPURCHASE AGREEMENTS: A holder of securities sells these securities to an investor with an agreement to repurchase them at a fixed price on a fixed date.
- SETTLE DATE: The date on which the transaction is settled and monies/securities are exchanged. If the settle date of the transaction (i.e., coupon payments and maturity proceeds) occurs on a non-business day, the funds are exchanged on the next business day.
- TRADE DATE: The date on which the transaction occurred; however, the final consummation of the security transaction and payment has not yet taken place.
- UNSETTLED TRADE: A trade which has been executed; however, the final consummation of the security transaction and payment has not yet taken place.
- U.S. TREASURY: The department of the U.S. government that issues Treasury securities.
- YIELD: The rate of return based on the current market value, the annual interest receipts, maturity value, and the time period remaining until maturity, stated as a percentage on an annualized basis.
- YTM AT COST: The yield to maturity at cost is the expected rate of return based on the original cost, the annual interest receipts, maturity value, and the time period from purchase date to maturity, stated as a percentage on an annualized basis.
- YTM AT MARKET: The yield to maturity at market is the rate of return based on the current market value, the annual interest receipts, maturity value, and the time period remaining until maturity, stated as a percentage on an annualized basis.
